A GLORIOUS DAFFODIL.

Narcissus Bicolor Victoria, the Largest, Finest and Most Beautiful of the Single Daffodils.

I TAKE GREAT PLEASURE THIS MONTH IN OFFERING MY FRIENDS SPLENDID, LARGE BULBS OF THE finest of Single-flowered Daffodils, Narcissus bicolor Victoria. It is comparatively new, and will be a novelty to, and enthusiastically admired by all Daffodil lovers who see it. The flowers are of immense size, the perianth broad and full, and almost pure white in color, while the trumpet is long, deep, elegantly fringed and crimped at the mouth, and of the richest golden yellow imaginable. The flowers come very early, and scent the air with their delicious odor. In a group or bed they make a grand display, and when grown in pots in the house, for which they are well adapted, they are unsurpassed. I urge all my friends to order a collection this month. The bulbs are now ready to mail, and can be potted or planted at once. They are perfectly hardy, and can be successfully used for bedding either North or South. I have but a limited quantity of the bulbs, and may not be able to repeat this advertisement. Price 8 cents each, or five bulbs for 30 cents. Order this month. Do not delay.

GEO. W. PARK, La Park, Pa.

FOR WINTER-BLOOMING—I offer the following handsome plants for only 30 cents; all easily grown, sure to bloom, and guaranteed to reach you safely:

Primrose, Large-flowered, improved, either Chinese or Obconica, splendid plants, sure to please you; there is no better winter-blooming plant than the Primrose.

Begonia Semperflorens, a lovely, everblooming kind; colors mostly rose and carmine.

Eranthemum pulchellum, rich blue flowers; the plants bloom freely in the window all winter.

Eupatorium riparium, lovely, pure white brush-like flowers in fine clusters; sure-blooming, beautiful.

Ruellia Makoyana, exquisitely marked foliage, rosy, bell-shaped flowers freely produced all winter.

Heterocentron album, sure-blooming, the pure white, cup-shaped flowers borne freely all winter.

Coleus, Fancy, named, easily grown, each leaf as bright as a flower, and very handsomely variegated.

SUBSTITUTES—Abutilon, Lantana, Crassula, Bougainvillea, Asparagus Sprengerii, Double Yellow

Nasturtium, Euphorbia Splendens and Strobilanthes.

Order This Month.—These plants will make a fine window display in winter, and surely please you; Two lots and the elegant new Alliance Geranium, only 50 cents.

Choice Named Tulips.

bed they will make a dazzling display in the spring. For larger beds I will deliver the bulbs at express office here at $1.10 per hundred, or $10.00 per thousand, an equal quantity of each variety.

COLLECTION A—SINGLE EARLY TULIPS.

10 Fine Bulbs 15 Cents.

Pure White, Pottebakker White, large, bold flower; one of the best, and very handsome.

White and Rose, Princess Marianna, a beautiful rosy white Tulip; very handsome.

Scarlet, Pottebakker Scarlet, very rich and showy; a superb sort; very handsome.

Pure Rose, Rose Queen, a new and very attractive Tulip.

Crimson, Cramoisi Brilliant, one of the brightest and showiest; very handsome.

Pure Yellow, Pottebakker Yellow, the finest of yellow Tulips; very large and handsome.

Red and Yellow, Kaizer's Kroon, very large, red with golden border; very handsome.

Orange, Thomas Moore, a rare, very attractive and beautiful Tulip.

Cherry Red, Epaminondas, new, very large and handsome; one of the best Tulips in cultivation.

Violet, Eleonora, an oddly colored and handsome Tulip.

The above are the finest Single Early Tulips in all the colors. The collection could not be improved. Grouped in a bed they will make a dazzling display in the spring. For larger beds I will deliver the bulbs at express office here at $1.10 per hundred, or $10.00 per thousand, an equal quantity of each variety.

COLLECTION B—DOUBLE EARLY TULIPS, 10 Fine Bulbs 15 Cents.

White, Alba Maxima, a very large and most handsome Tulip.

Scarlet, Rex Rubrorum, a very rich, double and showy Tulip.

Rose, Lord Beaconsfield, very large, bright and handsome.

Crimson, Rubra Maxima, very large bloom; unsurpassed in richness.

Yellow and Orange, Couronne d'Or, (Crown of Gold) the best double yellow Tulip; extra.

I know of no finer Double Early Tulip than the above.

Of all the choicest, brightest colors and variegations.

Develop a big, double flower. Per hundred at express office here, $1.25; per thousand, $12.00.

COLLECTION C—DOUBLE LATE, PARROT AND BOTANICAL TULIPS, 10 Very Fine Bulbs, 15 Cents.

PARROT TULIPS.

Blue, Blue Flag, late, bluish violet, very double and showy.

Red Striped White, Mariage de' Mafille, late, large, double, very handsome.

Pure Yellow, late, very double, large and most deliciously scented.

Scarlet, Caledonia, bright, fiery scarlet, black and gold; extra.

Yellow, Retroflexa, petals elegantly recurved; one of the finest.

The above Tulips are late-blooming, but exceedingly showy and beautiful. They are rarely met with, and are more admired on that account. They are entirely hardy. Most of them are sold by other dealers at fancy prices, but I secured those I offer at a bargain by contracting for a large lot, and can, therefore sell at the marvellously low prices at which I offer them. Do not fail to include this collection in your order. 100 at express office here $1.25; 1,000 $12.00. Order this month, as you may not have such an opportunity again.

COLLECTION D—DARWIN TULIPS, 10 Bulbs 20 Cents.

Deep Rose, Pride of Haarlem, tall; large flower, deep rose, inside salmon-scarlet.

Black Blue, Sultan, large flowers, tall, rare and showy; very dark.

The above list of Darwin Tulips embraces all the fine varieties in the most distinct colors. They bloom in May and June, showing large flowers. Those I offer are improved varieties. 100 bulbs at express office here, $1.80.

COLLECTION E—GIANT OR TREE TULIPS, 2 Bulbs 15 Cents.

TREE TULIPS, scarlet with blue center mostly branching, bearing large, showy flowers. 8c per bulb.

These Tree Tulips are hardy, mostly branch like a tree, bearing several flowers. They require a deep, rich soil to develop satisfactorily. Both, however, are hardy and of easy culture.

SPECIAL OFFER:—I will mail the above described collections of Tulips, 42 bulbs in all, also a 10-bulb collection of the hardy, Orchid-flowering Iris, for 75 cents. Or, get up a club for five 15-cent Tulip collections (75 cts) and I will add any Tulip collection you may select, and include the 10-bulb Iris collection for your trouble. Such bulbs cannot be purchased elsewhere at less than from 3 to 10 cents each. Cultural directions go with every package. Orders filled in rotation when bulbs are ready, in October.

BARGAIN IN CHOICE HYACINTHS

PERHAPS THE MOST BEAUTIFUL and showy of all the hardy spring bulbs are the Hyacinths. They are among the earliest to greet us in the spring, and their waxy, graceful trusses of bloom of all the rich shades and colors, pleasing the eye, and making the balmy spring air redolent with perfume, always elicit enthusiastic admiration and praise. Now is the time to get the bulbs, either for growing in pots of soil or glasses of water for winter-blooming, or for bedding in the garden to bloom in early spring. I offer fine imported bulbs of the choicest named varieties, made up in fine collections, embracing all the lovely colors. The cheaper bulbs are preferable for bedding, and will improve in beauty for several years; the larger, more expensive bulbs are the best for winter-blooming in the house. All are fine bulbs, and can be depended upon to bloom beautifully either in window or garden. As a rule the single-flowered varieties are preferable to the double-flowered for general purposes, and I therefore offer more bulbs of single than of double Hyacinths.

COLLECTION No. 1--10 Bulbs 30 Cents.

Pure White, Albertine, early, very fine bulbs, splendid truss; a very handsome sort.
Blush White, La Franchise, waxy texture, very large, graceful bells, showy truss; splendid variety.
Cream White, Mammoth, lovely color, elegant bells, superb spikes; most charming.
Light Rose, Gigantea, very large, handsome bells, immense truss; very beautiful.
Dark Rose, Cardinal Wiseman, splendid bells, broad, showy truss; magnificent.
Crimson-scarlet, Roi des Belges, very handsome bells, compact spike; one of the best.
Porcelain Blue, Schotel, exquisite bells, immense truss; very handsome.
Dark Porcelain Blue, Grand Maitre, graceful bells, large spike; very attractive.

COLLECTION No. 2--10 Bulbs, 30 Cents.

Pure White, Angenis Christina, exquisite bells, superb truss; very fine.
Blush White, Elfride, charming bells, fine, large truss; very beautiful.
Cream White, Leviathan, lovely bells and gigantic spike; a splendid sort.
Light Rose, Ornament Rose, fine bells, splendid big truss; very handsome.
Dark Rose, Lady Derby, handsome bells, very large truss; extra fine variety.

COLLECTION No. 3--10 Bulbs, 30 Cents.

Pure White, La Tour d'Auvergne, early, very double bells, fine spike; a choice sort.
Blush White, Isabella, splendid bells, very large spike; superb variety.
Cream White, Grootvorstin, bells with yellow centre, splendid truss; extra.
Light Rose, Chestnut Flower, waxy bells, fine, large spike; very handsome.
Dark Rose, Prince of Orange, very early, charming bells, showy truss; beautiful.

COLLECTION No. 4--7 Bulbs 30 Cents.

Pure White, La Tour d'Auvergne, early; fine double bells, heavy truss; very handsome.
Dark Rose, Prince of Orange, early; charming double bells, large, showy truss; beautiful.
Porcelain, Bloksburg, very fine, double bells, large truss; a handsome Hyacinth.
Duff Yellow, Sunflower, splendid double, graceful bells, heavy truss; finest double yellow.

 The above four splendid Double Hyacinths will be mailed at 5 cts each, or the four for 20 cts.

Collections 1 and 2 embrace the most beautiful Hyacinths in cultivation. To anyone sending 60 cts for two collections I will add two double or single Hyacinths, your choice, as a premium. For large beds I will supply fine single Hyacinths, collections 1 and 2, an equal quantity of either 10 or 20 varieties, at $2.75 per hundred.

LARGER BULBS—Although the above offered bulbs are all of fine blooming size, and will improve with age, I have secured bulbs of larger size, for those who wish them. These are preferable where the largest spikes of bloom are desired, and are usually sold at 12 cts each, or $1.20 per dozen by most dealers. I supply the larger bulbs of any of the collections, except No. 4, at 50 cts per collection.

SPECIAL—For $1.00 I will mail the above four collections, 37 cts in all, embracing all the fine single and double Hyacinths I have. This is a bargain. Get and plant or pot these bulbs during October and November, if you wish the best results. Orders received in September will be booked and the bulbs sent early in October, as soon as they arrive from Holland.

Oxalis Lutea, yellow, in clusters, winter-bloomer.
Triteleia uniflora, white, early spring flower.

 THE ABOVE BULBS are all easily grown, and I will include full cultural directions with every collection, so that all who plant them will succeed. I hope every one of my patrons will order the above collection, and ask others to send with them. To encourage club orders I will send an extra lot (25 bulbs) for an order of four collections ($1.00); or for an order of 10 collections ($2.50) I will send 20 Choice Hyacinth bulbs in 20 best named double and single varieties. Please see your friends at once, and get up a big club. A trial subscription to Park's Floral Magazine will be included with every collection.

These bulbs are all suitable for either house or garden culture. The illustrations will give some idea of their appearance and beauty. Order now. The earlier you get the bulbs the better will they grow and bloom.

HOPE'S EMBLEM.

Yes, the sun is ever shining bright somewhere,
And clouds show silver linings here and there,
To buoy our mind with hope e'en in despair.
So, when someone our happiness would shatter,
We'll know, in truth, it is a trivial matter,
For, like clouds, our gloomy thoughts will scatter,
And leave our sky in sunshine, bright and fair.

SNOWBALL HYDRANGEA.

SNOWBALL HYDRANGEA is a popular name given to the new Hydrangea arborescens sterilis, a native shrub which is common in its ordinary form in many sections of the country. The new form which bears only steril flowers was discovered several years ago, and from the single steril plant has come the immense stock of plants that are now being sent broadcast over our land.

This shrub is one of the few really good things that are occasionally found and introduced to the flower-loving public. As yet it is rare, but it is only a matter of time until it will be found at every home where there is a plot of ground for flower culture.

This new Hydrangea is of the easiest culture. It is readily propagated from cuttings of the half-ripened shoots placed in moist sand in a shady place during summer, and such cuttings will make blooming plants the next season. The plants stool out from the base, and it is well to cut the old stalks to the ground early in spring and thus encourage the growth of vigorous young shoots. These will produce the big flower clusters at their summit, and the succession of new shoots which push up during the season keep up a fine display of bloom the entire season. On account of this habit the plant is sometimes called the Everblooming Hydrangea. The individual flowers closely resemble those of the common Snowball in size and color, but are borne in immense, rather globular clusters, often measuring from a foot to eighteen inches across. Each cluster retains its beauty for a long time, then gradually turns green. It is well to remove the clusters when they begin to fade, taking with each a portion of the stem. This will promote the growth of new branches and new bloom. The plant likes partial shade, and a deep, moist, rich soil.

This glorious new shrub I gladly recommend, as I believe it will please all who get it. It should be one of the "must haves" in every collection.

and the branches which bloomed should be cut back, almost entirely away; then new shoots will push out, and it will make vigorous branches for next year's blooming.

Tropical Fruits.—Mrs. Curra, of Kentucky, wants to know if tropical fruits raised from seeds will bear without grafting. She will find the Florida Paw Paw, Guava, Loquat and Surinam Cherry will all bear in a reasonable time after the plants have been started. The Cattleyana Guava is particularly adapted for window culture at the North, and will bear a crop of fruit every season. The Fig is also adapted for pot culture, as well as the Surinam Cherry, which has beautiful shining foliage, and is a handsome plant aside from its fruiting qualities. Citrus fruits should be grafted, also the Japanese Persimmon, in order that they may early become productive.

A Flower Tonic.—A good tonic for the growth of plants is Spirits of Ammonia, a teaspoonful to a gallon of water applied once a week. A stimulant for the development of buds and flowers is bone-dust or phosphate occasionally stirred into the surface soil. To sweeten stagnant or sour soil, apply fresh quick-lime, stirring it into the surface, or water with lime-water made by stirring quick-lime with water and allowing it to settle.

Virginia Creeper.—This is Ampelopsis Quinquefolia, a native vine, valuable for covering buildings and old trees. It throws out little tendrils which attach themselves to the wall or weatherboarding, hence does not need the training that Roses and many other vines do. In Autumn the leaves become a rich, scarlet color, very showy and beautiful.

Maiden's Blush Rose.—There is much complaint of this Rose dropping its buds before they open. It seems to be a common failing of the plant. The best treatment that can be given, is to remove all the buds except the first ones which appear. This will throw the vitality of the plant into the larger buds, which will mostly develop.

Otaheite Orange.—After repotting, this plant rarely shows growth for some time, as new roots always form before top growth begins.

LARGE FLOWERS FROM SEEDS.

ASISTER from Berks County, Pennsylvania, writes that she is not successful in growing large flowers from seeds.

She has a seedling Begonia plant coming into bloom, but the flowers are small, and not like the plants from which the seeds were taken. As a rule, seedling plants are likely to revert to their original form. However, in a large bed of seedlings many large-flowered and beautiful plants will appear, and it is in this way that superior forms and colors are mostly obtained. The best thing you can do with seedlings is to get the best strain of seeds and give the plants lavish attention, to develop something superior. The anticipation and novelty of the work is always a source of inspiration, and if a few plants show improvement in any way, the cultivator is generally fully rewarded for his labor.

Campanula Garganica.—A lady from Danville, New Hampshire, encloses a leaf as shown in the illustration, with the following note:

Mr. Editor:—I enclose leaves of a plant of which no one can tell me the name. It has a star-like flower, ivory white. I had a plant that had lavender-colored flowers. What is it?—Mrs. E. R. B., New Hampshire, March 11, 1910.

From the leaf and description sent, the plant is, possibly, Campanula Garganica. It is of prostrate habit, with small, handsome leaves, and has clusters of delicate, showy flowers. It is easily grown from seeds, and is useful for either pots or baskets.

Wintering Fancy Caladiums.—As winter approaches, withhold water from your Fancy Caladiums, allow the soil to dry out, then set the pots in a cupboard, in a rather warm room, leaving the tubers undisturbed. When spring comes, shake them out of the old soil and repot, watering sparingly at first, and keep them in a rather shaded, warm and moist situation. Avoid wintering the bulbs in a damp, cool atmosphere, and moist soil, as they are liable to rot under such conditions.

Lime.—When plants are treated with lime to improve the soil and encourage bloom, it should be fresh slaked lime, applied to the surface and raked in. The rains will carry the essential parts of the lime deeper into the soil, and thus bring the whole mass into condition for use by the plants.

Lilac Blight.—Lilac Blight is indicated by black spots upon the foliage. The diseased leaves should be removed and burned, and the rest of the foliage sprayed with Bordeaux mixture, made after the formula given on page 135, July issue of the Magazine.

ABOUT CACTUSES.

A CACTUS lover of Vermont, has a Cactus showing some flat stems, and three or four angled ones. It bears large, red blossoms that stay open several days. She also has a pink- and a white-flowered one of the same general shape and nature. She wants to know their names, and also wants a yellow-flowered Cactus that will be a free bloomer. The red-flowered one is, doubtless, Phyllocactus Ackermani; the second, which has pink flowers, is probably a variety of the same species. The third, which bears white flowers, is probably Phyllocactus latifrons. A handsome, easily-grown Cactus bearing yellow flowers is Opuntia variegata. It has rather formidable spines, but is showy, and always attractive, even when not in bloom, because of its lovely green and yellow variegation.

Chrysanthemum Rust.—The rust that appears on Chrysanthemum plants, is a fungus spread by spores or seeds of the parasitic plants. Spraying with the Sherwin Williams Solution of lime and sulphur, say one to twenty-five parts of water, will be found an effectual remedy. It will also prevent an attack of Thrips or other insects, which, occasionally, do injury to Chrysanthemums.

Diseased Phlox.—Mrs. Beebe, of Suffolk County New York, writes that her perennial phlox is badly affected by a disease which turns the foliage brown and makes the plant unsightly just when it is beginning to bloom. The disease is a fungus which can be overcome by spraying with Bordeaux mixture as soon as it appears. See formula on page 135 of the July issue.

Feverfew.—A subscriber inquires about a flower which grows more than a foot high, and bears an abundance of double daisy-like flowers throughout the season. The plant is probably Matricaria Capensis fl. pl., commonly known as double Feverfew. It is readily grown from seeds, and comes into bloom early. It is a desirable summer plant.

For a South Window.—For winter blooming in a south window Abutilon Mesapotamicum, Crassula cordata, Cuphea platycentra, Eranthemum pulchellum, Heterocentron, Habrothamnus elegans, Impatiens Holsti, Salvia, Geraniums, Petunia and Verbenas will all thrive well. They can be readily grown from cuttings or seeds.

Non-blooming Gladiolus.—It is really not often that Gladiolus bulbs fail to bloom. When they do, it is sometimes due to shallow planting, the soil becoming too warm for the development of the plants. A remedy is to plant them five inches deep, and mulch the soil with good stable litter as the hot weather approaches.

PROPAGATING RHODODENDRONS.

RHODODENDRONS are mostly propagated by grafting. The scions are taken from the previous year's growth and placed upon stalks raised from cuttings, in the ordinary way, grown in six- or eight-inch pots until large enough to graft. The grafting should be done in winter, after which place them in a rather warm greenhouse to start growth. When they begin to grow pinch the center out to promote branching. As a rule, it is better to buy good plants already grown than to attempt to propagate them for your own private use.

RHODODENDRON.

Eradicating the Morning Glory.

—The Morning Glory is an annual that sometimes becomes troublesome when allowed to drop its seeds. The plants are not difficult to eradicate, however, if the ground is given thorough cultivation. After spading, the ground should be hoed over once a week, and the plants will not trouble you, as the seeds will soon all germinate.

Plant Lice.—A lady in Topeka, Kansas, finds her garden greatly troubled with plant lice. They attack her Tomato vines, Asters, Plums, etc. She will find a good remedy in the Sherwin-Williams lime and sulphur solution, using one part of the solution to twenty-five parts of water, and spraying the affected foliage.

Root Cuttings.—Cuttings of Cuphea, Abutilon, Chrysanthemum, Wandering Jew, Variegated Vinca and Purple Velvet Plant, are easily started from cuttings placed in moist sand during summer. Fuchsias and Abutilons often begin to bloom when but a few inches high, and when the plants are quite young.

Herbs.—Mrs. Rudolph Koch, of Green County, New York, is informed that Tarragon and Esdragon are the same, and refers to Artemisia Dracunculus. Waldmeister, used in drinks, is Asperula odorata. Seeds of these herbs may be obtained from any reputable seedsman at five cents per packet.

Chinese Lilies.—A lady in Florida writes that she has no trouble in bringing the Chinese Lilies into bloom, and no trouble selling them when they are in bloom. She expects to grow a lot of them during the coming season.

Begonia Buds Dropping.—When a Rex Begonia grows well it is not important whether the buds develop or not, as the foliage is the chief attraction. Watering with lime-water, however, may be found of benefit in developing the buds.

GARDEN NOTES.

PERENNIAL PHLOX.—Among the most showy and beautiful of hardy garden flowers are the Phloxes Boule de Nieg, Boule de Feu, Faust and Cœrulea, representing the colors white, scarlet, crimson and violet. In a bed or row they make a glorious display that can be seen at a great distance. There is considerable difference in the blooming qualities of Phloxes, but the ones named can be depended upon for an abundance of flowers of the most handsome colors.

PERENNIAL PHLOX.

RUDBECKIA SULLIVANTI.—For a rich golden mass of bloom the Rudbeckia Sullivani surpasses all other garden perennials, and if its showiness, long season of bloom, easy culture and hardiness were better known it would be an indispensable perennial. The plants grow two feet high, are readily started from seeds, and are perfectly hardy and tenacious. The flowers are almost as large as a Shasta Daisy, with bright golden rays and a black purple disk.

RUDBECKIA SULLIVANTI. In growth and bloom this Rudbeckia is somewhat like R. Newmanii, but taller, more robust and more showy. Two years ago this beautiful perennial was called to my attention by Dr. Beal, of the Michigan Agricultural College, and the plants blooming so richly on my grounds were grown from seeds he kindly supplied. It has proven to be one of the most showy and beautiful of the species of Rudbeckia yet introduced.

A BOUT DELPHINIUM.—After the Perennial Delphinium plants were though blooming in June I had the tops all cut back to the ground. In a short time new shoots appeared, and now each plant is a clump of elegant blooming stalks, which will keep up the display until the coming of frost. The cutting of the old unsightly stalks was a simple matter, and the result a happy remuneration for the work. The plants of Perennial Delphinium become more vigorous with age, and the first blooming stalks will often grow seven or eight feet high.

DELPHINIUM.

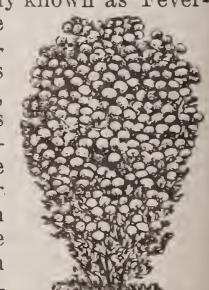

When such stalks are cut off, the new growth will develop a fine array of foliage and bloom. Plants can be propagated from seeds sown either in fall or spring.

HERCULES CLUB GOURD.—Covering an old apple-tree upon the Editor's grounds is a robust vine of the Hercules Club Gourd. The leaves are large, showy and graceful, and their natural arrangement is beautiful, exciting the admiration of those who view it at a distance. But those who go near it, see other things to admire, for, peering out from the mass of foliage are numerous pure white, delicate, scented flowers the size of a small Morning Glory, and among the foliage, almost hidden, are the long, curious clubs, becoming longer and more attractive every day. The seeds were planted around the tree about the time the apple-trees were in bloom, and the plants were not

HERCULES CLUB GOURD. disturbed, but given a rope support early, to enable them to reach the branches of the tree. The foliage, flowers and fruits now showing, are a happy reward for the attention bestowed, and if the statement of an Italian florist is to be credited, something better is still to be enjoyed. He says: "When young the fruit of this Gourd furnishes quite an excellent dish. Cut into pieces of about three inches long, take out the seeds, fill it up with a stuffing of meat, etc., boil, and serve with tomato sauce". He does not say what the "etc." consists of, but I suppose it may be of something good. So, my friends, when I have the long fruits cut up, stuffed, boiled, and ready to serve, step in, and we will have a feast.

Feverfew.—The beauty of a bed of Matricaria Capensis, commonly known as Feverfew, whether in the double or single form, is not generally known. The plants grow about two feet high, and become a glorious mass of flowers during the summer. The seeds may be sown in either autumn or spring, but preferably in Autumn. They germinate readily, and will bloom the first season. M. eximia Gold Ball, and M. eximia Snowball, are dwarf plants with double golden and white flowers. They are very free-blooming, and well adapted for beds and edgings.

HYDRANGEA.

ALADY from Michigan sends a panicle of Hydrangea, showing a few conspicuous flowers. She states that all of the panicles bloomed in this way, and she wants to know the reason why. She is informed that most of the native Hydrangeas produce just such panicles. The large, showy flowers are sterile ones, and those that are inconspicuous are productive. The new Hydrangea arboreascens grandiflora shows all sterile flowers, hence, produce no seeds. The common Snowball, Viburnum Opulus Sterilis, produces all sterile flowers in the same way. The wild Viburnum Opulus produces only a few sterile flowers in the clusters, but in autumn shows a fine lot of large, rosy berries or fruits. If she wishes a showy Hydrangea, she should get the improved variety that produces all sterile flowers.

HYDRANGEA ARBORESCENS
HYDRANGEA ARBORE-
CENS GRANDIFLORA.

Rose Enemies.—The lice that appear on the new growth of Roses, and the slugs that come on the underside of the leaves, eating them to a thin shell, making them look as though fire-burnt, and greatly injuring the appearance and vitality of the bush, may be eradicated by syringing with the Sherwin-Williams lime and sulphur solution, reduced by mixing one part of the solution to twenty-five parts of water. This will also destroy any scale that may be on the plants. It will not hurt the foliage if applied in the evening.

Hardy Primroses.—A subscriber in Indiana is interested in Hardy Primroses, and wants to know how to grow them from seeds. The most important thing to learn is patience. There are few of the perennial Primroses that germinate in less than one or two years after sowing. The bed should be in a rather shady place, where it will not be disturbed for several years. Some plants will show the first year, but more will appear the second season after the seeds are sown. It is a good plan to sow the seeds in autumn.

Chrysanthemum Pest.—A subscriber from Connecticut complains of a small insect that riddles the foliage of her Chrysanthemums. If she will apply a weak solution of Sherwin-Williams lime and sulphur, say, one part of the solution to twenty-five parts of water, she will find it an effectual remedy. Avoid the solution being so strong as to injure the foliage.

Lice on Pansies.—To destroy lice that sometimes infest Pansies, place chopped tobacco stems on the soil about the plants, and dust the infested leaves with tobacco dust.

SEEDLING CYCLAMEN.

CYCLAMEN SEEDS are almost sure to grow, but the young plants will not appear for a month after the seeds are sown, as the seed throws out a little root and forms a small corm before the plantlet pushes up. The seeds should be sown in a shallow box or pot, and the soil carefully watered until the plants are large enough to transplant. Never allow it to dry out. Give partial shade and keep the soil between the plants stirred, and thus keep the plants constantly growing until they bloom, which will be in about fifteen or eighteen months after the seeds are sown. The soil best suited to their growth is a compost of fibrous loam, leaf-mold and sand. As a rule, Cyclamen plants are always grown from seeds. Be sure to get a good strain of seeds and you will have fine plants and flowers.

CYCLAMEN.

A Trellis Vine.—A subscriber wants to know a good vine for a wire netting, placed a few inches from the south wall of a dwelling, and reaching eight or nine feet high. She will find Hall's Evergreen Honeysuckle one of the very best vines for such a place, remaining green all of the fall and early winter, and renewing its foliage early in the spring. During the summer and fall it becomes a mass of lovely, fragrant, white and yellow bloom. It has no enemies, and makes a dense and beautiful growth. In the South it is evergreen.

Columbine.—A subscriber from Massachusetts encloses a little booklet recommending the Columbine as the National flower, and in the appeal adds:

Mr. Editor:—I would say that if the seedsmen of this country would boom the Columbine, they would sell many more packets of the seeds, as well as use their influence in bringing this flower into prominence among the people. It is a worthy native flower, and I trust will be adopted as the appropriate flower of our country, the United States of America.—A.M.McG., Mass., May 18, 1910.

Lace Fern.—Pot this Fern in a moderate-sized pot, using a compost of leaf-mold and sand, with good drainage. Place the pot inside of a larger pot, and keep in a rather shady place, where the temperature is cool and moist.

Non-Blooming Rose.—When a Rose fails to bloom it should be given a sunny situation, and the soil about it enriched with bone-meal or phosphate. A little lime stirred into the surface soil will be found beneficial.

CHILDREN'S LETTER.

Y DEAR CHILDREN: — Have you ever noticed how freely Nature decorates the landscape with trees and plants and vines? Every waste place is soon occupied with growing vegetation; every unsightly object is soon covered with vines, or hidden by blooming plants. Even the great arid sand plains that appear in some parts of the world, are relieved with a growth of Cactuses and other plants that are graceful and beautiful in their season, and generally yield food for man or beast. And not only is the face of Nature made bright and beautiful by the hand of the All-wise Creator, but it is rendered more interesting and cheerful and happy by the birds and insects and animals in variety that are attractive in form or color or action. We study them, admire them, and find in them some mission to fulfil in the economy of Nature.

Altogether these things make the earth a delightful place in which to live, and the shifting scenes and voices of the seasons, as they come and go, add new pleasures to life, and make it a perpetual round of happiness.

These thoughts came to my mind more forcibly than usual this morning, as I came along the path by the water's edge on my way to my place of business. The sun cast shimmering rays through the whispering foliage of the trees, while birds and insects made merry among the branches; the water's edge was lined with masses of blooming plants and fruiting shrubs, and the big green leaves of the Water Lily lying upon the surface were set off with an occasional fragrant white bloom, and made curiously interesting by a school of frogs that sat quietly upon the leaves, thinking and thinking as they listened to the songs in the trees above them; a crane, frightened by the tread of human footsteps, rose from his cozy retreat by the Lily pond, and sailed out from among the trees, calling to his distant mate in his peculiar language; and the naked tree trunks and many shrubs and bushes were almost hidden by the foliage of shrubby vines or seedlings that sprang up from Mother Earth in early spring.

And now, let me tell you, dear children, that every tree and shrub and plant and flower that adorns the pathway, as well as every living creature, is a source of interest and pleasure when we study its form and habits. Here are two species of Impatiens that grow side by side, the one with long, yellow, sack-like flowers freely covered with brownish red spots, and tipped at the base with a long, slender, recurved little tube containing honey. This is Impatiens fulva, known as the Spotted Touch-me-not. The other is I. pallida, which has light yellow, broad-mouthed flowers with a much smaller honey appendage. This species grows taller than the spotted one, often reaching five feet when in very rich, moist soil. The flowers are larger, but are not so freely produced. They are called "Touch-me-not" because the ripe seed-pods will burst upon the slightest touch. They are near relatives of the garden Balsam. The seedlings appear abundantly upon the banks of a stream early in spring, each showing the circular, fleshy leaves, as indicated in the little sketch. Very quickly a central shoot appears, and in a little while they become diminutive branching succulent trees. The first buds develop into seed-pods before opening, but it is not long until the clusters of from one to three buds, which issue from the leaf-axils as the plant grows, show the pretty, graceful flowers, followed by the inch-long, five-ribbed seed-pods, mostly holding four or more oblong, four-angled seeds. The leaves are oblong-ovate, coarsely serrated along the margin, with prominent mid-ribs and radiating veins. The plants continue growing and blooming until cut off by frost. As the seed-pods ripen the sections separate and roll up with a spring-like action, scattering the seeds for many feet around, often into the flowing water which carries them many miles distant to new places of abode. Here they lie dormant until the spring sunshine and showers awake them to new life. When you read this, dear children, go out to some stream and study the plants and their habits for yourselves. You will find what I have told you and much more contained in Nature's specimens.

IMPATIENS FLOWER

BRANCH OF HAZEL-NUT.

Hanging in the Hazel arch-way yonder you notice the little leafy branches with big clusters of nuts in their leafy covering, and the small tail-like flower-buds forming for next season's bloom. Soon we shall see the pretty brown nuts falling from their cozy corner, and the foliage will rustle and fall in the chill autumn winds. Then will the young buds become more prominent, and each warm day in winter will develop them more and more, until, as the snow disappears, the lovely, orange and brown flowers will appear in all their early spring beauty.

A common group of bushes usually growing upon the water's edge, and leaning over the water, is Cornus sericea. The plants grow eight feet high, often developing from the roots, long, slender, brownish rods through the season. In June little clusters of white flowers appear, followed by fruiting clusters which are now of a lovely blue color. In the center of each is a little drupe or stone with grooves on the side. These drupes come up well if sown the following spring, and the seedlings will attain the height of a foot or more the first season.

One of the Native annual vines conspicuous along the path at this time is Sicyos angulata.

This vine belongs to the gourd family, and the small, inconspicuous flowers come in clusters, succeeded by a bunch of bony seeds covered with a green, fuzzy skin. These seeds must be sown in autumn, where you wish the plants to grow. They will come up early in spring, almost as soon as the snow is gone; their growth and climbing qualities are amazing. At every leaf, on alternate sides, is a triplet of long, slender tendrils that hold their slender "feelers" straight out until they touch something, then they grasp it, like the octopus, never to let go. Vines of Sicyos are to be seen forty feet or more high, covering old trees, or trunks and branches of living ones, and their growth is not nearly completed. The foliage is very graceful and dense, and where a pretty, quick-growing, foliage vine is wanted, this native plant is well worth giving a place.

Across the race, covering the tall group of Blackberry bushes is a mass of the beautiful foliage of the native Buckwheat Vine, Polygonum scandens. It is smooth, delicate and dense, and is a grand covering for the thorny bushes that at this season would otherwise be unsightly. Sincerely your friend,

LaPark, Pa., Aug. 24, 1910. The Editor

Grasshoppers.—A subscriber in Maine wants to know how to get rid of grasshoppers. If he has a flock of chickens or turkeys and turns them into his grounds, they will soon get away with them.

SICYOS ANGULATA.

SWEET PEAS ON WIRE.

WHEN SWEET PEAS fail to grow and bloom when on wire, the wire is sometimes thought to be the cause. It is mostly due, however, to the plants being too shallow in the soil. In planting Sweet Peas, a furrow should be turned and the seeds sown in the furrow, then, as the plants grow, the soil should be turned in toward them, thus imbedding the roots deep in the ground, where they are not so liable to be affected by heat and drought.

Spirea Turning Brown.—Mr. Mathews, of Vermont, has a Spirea which turns brown, the trouble beginning at one side and spreading all over the plant just as it is starting to bud. He has tried washing them with warm soap-suds, but it does not seem to do any good. He should spray the plant as soon as the disease appears with a lime and sulphur solution, say one part to twenty-five parts of water. The solution made by Sherwin-Williams, is such that the sulphur and lime are dissolved, hence will color the foliage but little, while it acts on both insect and fungus diseases. It will be found an effectual remedy,

Starting Rubber Plants.—The best way to start a young rubber plant is to cut a nick on each side of a young branch, place Sphagnum moss over each one, tie it up, forming a ball, and keep this constantly wet for several months, when roots will form, and the branch can be severed and potted. Rubber plants can also be started from cuttings of half-ripened wood, placed in wet sand in a rather shaded situation during the summer. Cuttings are not so sure to start, however, as if left on the plant as suggested.

Crimson Rambler Mildewing.—Crimson Ramblers will sometimes mildew when the weather is in favorable condition for that disease. A good remedy is to syringe with the Sherwin-Williams Lime and Sulphur solution, diluted in the proportion of one part to twenty-five of water. A little lime and sulphur stirred into the soil around the plant will also be beneficial. The Wichurian Hybrid Roses, such as Hiawatha and Lady Gay, have more healthy foliage, and are not subject to mildew.

LINUM GRANDIFLORUM.

WHEN at the big flower gardens of Erfurt, Germany, recently, I saw no annual that made a more attractive display in a bed than Linum grandiflorum rubrum. The plants were then in full bloom, and as the showy, odd-colored flowers in countless numbers waved upon their fairy-like stems in the morning sunlight they elicited the highest admiration. Even a plant or group of plants make a fine display, as may be imagined from looking at the little illustration here presented. The plants like a sunny bed, and should be grown in a mass, to get the best effect.

SWEET WILLIAM.

HERE ARE FEW more attractive members of the Dianthus family than Dianthus barbatus, commonly known as Sweet William. The plants are easily grown from seeds, and if sown this month where the plants are to stand, a grand display of flowers the coming year will result. The flowers are both single and double in form, of many rich shades and variegations, and come in big clusters, lasting for some weeks, and making the air redolent with their sweetness. A bed started from seeds sown this month will become a sheet of bloom next summer. The young plants withstand the cold of winter, and bloom much more satisfactorily than older ones.

SWEET WILLIAM.

LULLA-BY.

Lulla-by, hush-a-bye,
Watch the swallows as they fly,
High and low, low and high,
Evening's drawing nigh.

Lulla-by to dreamland go,
Swallows flitting to and fro,
Lulla-by, the twilight falls
Lulla-by, the birdies call.

Lulla-by, hush-a-bye,
Watch the swallows homeward fly,
Seeking rest in downy nest,
Lulla-by, sweet, lulla-by.

Lulla-by, you and I,
While the moments swiftly fly,
Lids close down oe'r eyes of brown,
No more need of lulla-by.

MERTENSIA VIRGINICA.

ELONGING to the Borage family we have a native flower known as Smooth Lungwort, found in meadows during early spring. This is Mertensia of which there are three species, the most common being M. Virginica, which bears scorpioid racemes of flowers mostly pink in the bud, but blue when fully developed. The showiness and beauty of the blooming plants is such that many persons become interested in them, and make inquiries about them. The following note from a reader of Valier, Pennsylvania, is a sample of many received. It accompanied a pressed specimen which is shown in the ketch:

"Mr. Editor:—I enclose a cluster of wild flowers which I found growing along the creek bottom here. I would like to know what it is. The flowers are of various colors, first pink, then purple and red. I also found a plant bearing pure white flowers. Several years ago I lifted some plants and set them in my yard. They have grown and bloomed well, but they have no scent. The flower stem grows from six inches to a foot in height. Can any one tell me the name?"

Jeff. Co., Pa., April 22, 1910.

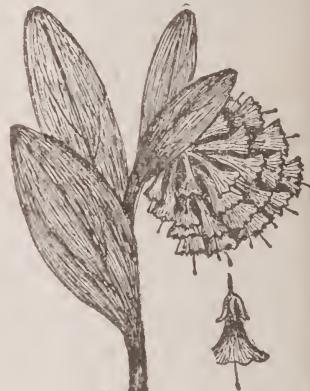

H. J. Weaver.

Mertensia Virginica is not found in every section of the Eastern States, but where it does grow it is very handsome during the month of May, when the big drooping clusters are in their beauty. Along a creekbank near Mercersburg, Franklin County, Pennsylvania there is a long patch of the plant that makes a fine display of bloom every spring, to be seen from the car windows. The soil is rich, dark loam, and the plants are in partial shade. I have often admired the flowers there as I passed. Surely the plants deserves a place in every perennial collection.

Summer Home.—The picture of a Summer Home printed in the August number of the Magazine was sent by Miss Campbell, of Westmorland County, Pa., who wrote, "The summer home shown in the photograph is that of Lawyer Shields. The house was built of logs, and is situated on the Laurel Hill Mountains, about two miles from Laughlinstown Pa."

Non-blooming Pelargonium.

When a Pelargonium fails to bloom plunge it out in a sunny place in the garden, and stir a little bone-dust or phosphate into the surface soil. Allow it to sometimes become rather dry at the roots, as this will promote the development of the buds and flowers.

MERTENSIA VIRGINICA.

CROCUSES.

IT WOULD be hard for me to say what any favorite flower is, for I enjoy them all, from the costly Orchid, which I only see on very rare occasions when visiting some city, to the most modest little wildlings that nestle in a bed of dry leaves in the woods. And yet, I sometimes think that the very early and the very late blooming ones give us the most pleasure, perhaps.

Two years ago next fall I got two collections of Park's Crocuses, and they bloomed so bravely last spring, and were so satisfactory in every way, that last fall I bought a hundred more. I planted them five or six inches apart around the edge of four formal beds. On March 22, the first Crocuses burst into bloom—three bright yellow ones. They were followed quickly by others of purple, lavender, striped and pure white. Easter Sunday there were two dozen out, and a week later I counted over a hundred. They are planted in plain sight from my sitting-room windows, and on days when it was too cold, or I was too busy, to go out to them, I so often thought as I glanced at them from the window, that each day I got the worth of the small sum I paid for them; and multiplying that by thirty, for they bloomed a whole month, I consider that I made a good investment. Mary Farmer.

Pinching Asparagus Sprengerii.—A good way to treat Asparagus Sprengerii is to pinch off three or four of the center shoots when they are six or eight inches high, letting the balance droop over the sides of the hanging basket. This gives the effect of two plants in one basket, as the pinched off shoots will stand erect, and will be as light and airy as the drooping fronds. They also do away with the bald look of the plant when allowed to grow in its own way. Mrs. L. Eastman.

Ft. White, Florida.

California Privet.—I advise the use of California Privet for hedges. Of all the shrubs which have been tried for hedging, none can compare with this. It requires very little attention, and is free from insects. It is of easy growth and splendid foliage.

Carbondale, Pa., July 18, 1910. Tommy.

To Restore Faded Flowers.—Place the stems in boiling water, sufficiently high to cover one-third their length; let them stand until the water is cold, then cut off the soft part of the stems and place in cold water.

Lakemont, N.Y., April 18, 1910. Mrs. W.

AMARYLLIS.

TO GET AMARYLLIS to bloom two or more times a year: As soon as growth stops, which will be known by no more new leaves appearing after the others have completed their growth, set pot away, not in full sunshine, and give very little water till a new leaf starts. Then soak well in warm water, and give it a chance to grow. Usually the first sign of growth will be a fat bud pushing up. A friend of mine grows this plant in a pot holding a peck of soil, from twelve to twenty large bulbs in one pot, and the show at blooming time is something worth while. Another pot, not quite so large, holds enough bulbs to give twelve bloom stalks at once. This latter group is Regina. Neither of these is disturbed or repotted till the bulbs crowd each other out of the ground.

Mrs. M. C. Marshall.
Indiana Co., Pa., May 13, 1910.

AIGBERTH AMARYLLIS.

Orange Tree.—The foliage of my Orange tree is now growing finely. The tree blossomed freely in April, and had about a dozen oranges on it. When the weather was warm we set it out of doors, in partial shade. We have sprayed it often, also put lime and some bone-meal around it, and used cow-manure in the water occasionally. The fruit which formed on it when it was in the house was the size of a pea, and is now falling off, and other fruit is setting.

Mrs. F. A. B.

Salem, Mass., July 11, 1910.

Ans.—It is not uncommon for an Orange tree to lose its fruit when it is changed from one place to another. The fruit which is now setting will be likely to remain on the tree. It would be well, however, to be careful in fertilizing not to overdo it, as too much fertilizing will be likely to injure the roots and reduce the vitality of the tree.

African Daisy.—I sowed seeds of the new African Daisy, Dimorphotheca, and every seed grew. It is a mass of beautiful, orange-colored flowers. I sent three of the plants to Massachusetts, gave some away here, and planted five plants myself. The cut-worms destroyed two, but the remaining three are lovely. I would not be without this flower in my garden again. It is so easy to grow, too.

Ada L. Whitten.

New Haven, Co., Conn.

Sowing Fine Seeds.—Mrs. Kay's method of sowing seeds is too tedious for me. I mix them with very fine sand, quick-sand if possible, and then distribute them easily with my fingers.

PEONIES.

ÆONIES are among the most popular flowers. History repeats itself in floral as well as in human affairs, and it is interesting to note that we are again cultivating and admiring the old-fashioned flowers that our grandmothers loved and cultivated in old Colonial days, and of them even in the old home across the sea. The Paeony is one which deserves all the popularity and praise it receives from this or any preceding generation. While its season of bloom is not long, by having early and late varieties one can have Pæonies from a month to six weeks, and at a time when flowers are scarce. Somehow one always thinks of Memorial Day when thinking of Pæonies, and what flower could be more suitable for decorating the graves of our fallen heroes than they? Their bravery and hardiness is like that of the patriots whose memory we revere, and whose deeds we honor.

"Hardy as an oak" is the way they are sometimes described. While it takes two years and sometimes more for them to get well established, and we can expect blossoms, when once they do get started they require no care whatever, only to be left alone, and they grow stronger and bloom better, and the flowers get larger, year after year. I counted sixty buds and blossoms on one clump last year, that has stood in the same place on a lawn, in heavy blue-grass sod, for thirty years. Some of the flowers measured nine inches in diameter. Imagine the gorgeousness of a hundred or even a dozen such plants.

It does not matter much what the weather is, early in April the bright red spear-like shoots thrust themselves up through the cold ground, and assure us that spring is coming, notwithstanding its fickleness and general disagreeableness. Ere long the magic spear bursts open, and a red leaf-cluster is disclosed which gradually opens into leaves, and at last into flowers. No insects disturb it, and after the blossoms go the plant stands upright, strong and vigorous, and makes a pleasing background for later flowers, or a good substitute for a hedge or border for lawn or garden. It is also effective about shrubbery, and is not unsightly on the open lawn, which cannot be said of many plants after their blooming season.

Pæony "cranks" or fanciers are common nowadays, and some florists send out catalogues describing nothing but Pæonies. The worst thing about them is the expense. They range in price from twenty-five cents to one hundred dollars a piece.

The average price for fine sorts is from thirty-five cents to seventy-five cents.

While not so large nor so double as the later Chinese Pæonies, none are more beautiful or pleasing to me than the old-fashioned P. officinalis. In size and color, the red sort resembles a very large American Beauty Rose. The pink is a soft, delicate shade, and the white is usually tinted with blush. They bloom a week or more earlier than any other except P. Tenuifolia, which is also a charming flower. Pæonies should adorn every yard.

About Hiawatha Rose.—I heartily endorse all that can be said in praise of the Rose Hiawatha. I planted a small, mail-size plant of it two years ago, and despite a severe drought that season, it had grown canes twelve feet in length by fall, completely covering a trellis seven feet high, and drooping in shining masses to the ground. The following summer it was really sensational when in bloom, and the blooms last so long. It is very easily propagated by layering. It seems entirely exempt from insect pests.

Mrs. L. C. S.

Benton Co., Ark., July 7, 1910.

Decorative Sunflowers.—Our bay-window is on the sunny side, where it is very hot in summer, and the lawn has considerable slope. I was, therefore, at a loss to know what to plant to improve the appearance. But upon trial I found that the tall and dwarf Sunflowers would grow successfully there. By grouping them around the window near the house, they made a very effective display.

Mrs. L. B. M.

Phylo Cactus.—To have this cactus bloom freely, it should be pot bound. I have the best success with it when it is kept very cool in winter, almost freezing, but during this time it must have sunlight. I have one now, a medium sized plant, with fifty buds on it.

SUMMER MULCH.

IF I WERE GIVEN but one subject to write about for summer-time, it would be that of mulching. And I am aware it is quite an important winter topic as well, for I have lately seen the grandest field of Strawberries I ever saw, and they had been mulched in the late fall with strawy horse-manure. And right here is an important point to note, that there is strawy manure and straw manure. One seedsman in New York City recommends in his catalogue the application of straw manure as a mulch for Sweet Peas. Now my experience with stable straw manure is that it burns Sweet Peas wherever they come in contact. So our seedsman friend must refer to what farmers in some sections call rotted straw, the residue of old straw stacks, as straw manure.

Now there are various substances that can be used as a mulch,—horse manure around plants that it does not injure in contact, old hay and straw, lawn clippings, muck, wood's earth, sand, ashes, etc., for the main object of a mulch in summer is to prevent excessive evaporation of the soil. This is accomplished in a measure by cultivation, but mulching is Nature's way of conserving that priceless treasure to tide over the hot, dry days of summer, for who has not trod the wood lane and forest path without noting the thick litter of leaves, etc., that covers the virgin soil?

My manner of mulching last season brought fine results. I was handy to the alley boxes, and to a fine bed of black leaf-mold, so I wheeled in wheel-barrow loads of fresh horse-manure and covered it with the black soil. Every week or so I gave an application to the garden, and at each hoeing chopped it into the soil, and then brought more, and I raised twice as much, I believe, than if I had not mulched the soil.

One of the finest conserves of moisture is coal-ashes. They make an especially fine mulch around trees. One of the finest Pear-orchards in Genesee County, New York, is mulched yearly around the trunk with old sods.

This year the manure and black leaf soil are not at hand, but I have a bed of light black sand which I am using with fine results. Excepting for the lawn and occasionally for certain plants, I would recommend every gardener to throw away his hose and use a mulch. I believe more mildew and other diseases of plants originate from excessive watering than from any other cause. Many people keep their lawn sprinklers running continually in their gardens, to the detriment of the plants they think they benefit, and besides making the atmosphere too humid, wasting the water which costs our cities a very heavy extra item in the matter of extra engines, their wear and tear, and extra help to run them. Surely mulching is indispensable these days.

FOR A HOT WINDOW.

UR BAY WINDOW was a winter problem, as the room was heated by steam and had four sunny windows besides.

It was, therefore, too hot for many plants. Cactuses like it, and so do Hoya, for both bloomed the following summer. The Night-blooming Cereus had two perfect blossoms, and the Hoya bloomed twice. I think it must have been because of the perfect ripening of the wood. I send a photograph of a cluster of the Hoya.

THE COURT-HOUSE YARD.

NEXT YEAR the care-taker of the court-house yard planted or sowed a lot of Poppy and Four-o'clock seeds along the path leading to the steps. There are a host of trees all through the yard, a regular grove, but those flowers grew and grew, and it was a pretty sight to drive past and see the color. Of course the flowers are what the folks call coarse, but after all they made a color effect on the landscape, and few who passed stopped to think or inquire into the names of their plants or their nature, whether they were coarse or fine, or whether they were what "my lady" would choose for her decorations or not. What we do know is that they gave a touch of color and brightness that was not lost, and they were better than weeds. Get something, anything that will make a glow and gladness come into the heart of the passer-by, even if that passer is only a child.

GEO. W. PARK, La Park, Lancaster Co., Penn'a.

AS A PREMIUM I will send you a large bulb of Amaryllis Johnsoni (retail price 35 cents), for a club of eight names ($1.12), and will include PARK'S FLORAL MAGAZINE on trial to each member of the club. Full cultural directions with every package of bulbs. Get up a club and order at once.

Fine bulbs of Bermuda Easter Lily 20 cents; Lilium Candidum 20 cents; White Calla 15 cents. These bulbs are also ready for mailing. Add them to your order.

This clever woman has not a wrinkle upon her face; she has perfected a marvelous, simple method which brought a wonderful change in her face in a single night. For removing wrinkles and developing the bust, her method is truly wonderfully rapid.

She made herself the woman she is today and brought about the wonderful change in her appearance in a secret and pleasant manner. Her complexion is as clear and fair as that of a child. She turned her scrawny figure into a beautiful bust and well-developed form. She had thin, scrawny eyelashes and eyebrows, which could scarcely be seen, and she made them long, thick and beautiful and removed every blackhead and pimple in a single night.

You can imagine her joy, when by her own simple discovery, she removed every wrinkle from her face and developed her thin neck and form to beautiful proportions.

Nothing is taken into the stomach, no mask or common massage, no harmless plasters, no rollers, no worthless creams.

By her new process, she removes wrinkles and develops the whole figure plump and fat.

It is simply astonishing the hundreds of women who write in regarding the wonderful results from this new beauty treatment, which is beautifying their face and form after beauty doctors and other methods failed.

Mary Merritt of Wis., writes, her wrinkles have entirely disappeared. Miss Hanson writes, her bust is beautifully developed and wrinkles gone. Mrs. Markham writes, she has not a wrinkle left.

The valuable new beauty book which Madame Cunningham is sending free to thousands of women is certainly a blessing to womankind, as it makes known her remarkable methods of beautifying the face and figure of unattractive women.

All our readers should write her at once and she will send you absolutely free, everything she agrees and will show our readers how to quickly remove wrinkles; how to develop the bust; how to make long, thick eyelashes and eyebrows; how to instantly remove superfluous hair; how to remove blackheads, pimples and freckles; how to remove dark circles under the eyes; how to quickly remove double chin; how to build up sunken cheeks and add flesh to the body; how to darken gray hair and stop hair falling; how to remove warts and moles.

Simply address your letter to Evelyn Cunningham, Suite 913, 7 Randolph Street, Chicago, Ill., and don't send any money, because particulars are free as this charming woman is doing her utmost to benefit girls or women in need of secret information which will add to their beauty and make life sweeter and lovelier in every way.

Now is the time to write and learn her beauty secrets, lest your beauty passes, even as the petals of a rose withers into the drift of yesterday's flowers. Advertisement.

I MAKE YOU YOUNG AGAIN

Years count for nothing if you have the vital force. My Health Belt, worn nights, pours great quantities of electro-vitality into your blood, nerves and organs. It gives you the vigor of a giant, the fire of youth; you will feel young the balance of your life; it cures weak, lame back in one day; your old courage soon returns; you will have as much vital vigor as the biggest, fullest-blooded man you know, and can answer FEELING FINE to anyone. Women and men will be attracted to you: your eyes will sparkle with health, and can look without embarrassment into eyes that meet them. In short you will be a complete and perfect man. Cures rheumatism, kidney, liver, stomach disorders in both men and women.

A BOOK ON STRENGTH FREE C. L. Snell, Middleport, N. Y., writes—"Your Health Belt made a new man of me, after all else failed." Write for free book, "Health in Nature," sent sealed by mail. It gives much information and fully describes my Health Belt.

This Man Is Young at 55 Years.

QUESTION AND ANSWER.

A Poplar Enemy.—We have some North Carolina Poplar trees which, in summer, are troubled with a worm nearly as large as my little finger, about one and a half or two inches long, light green with white streaks, resembling the tomato worm. How shall I get rid of them?—Mrs. M. R. P., Mich.

Ans.—This enemy is, doubtless, the larva of an insect which lays its eggs upon the leaves. It can be overcome by spraying with hellebore, or with Sherwin-Williams Lime and Sulphur solution, one part to twenty-five parts water. This will not injure the foliage, but will make it unpleasant for the pest.

Azalea.—I have a fine, double, white, Chinese Azalea, and a few sprouts came near the roots which now bear deep pink flowers. Should these sprouts be cut off?—K. K., Va., June 20, 1910.

Ans.—Azaleas are sometimes propagated by grafting and by cuttings. If the sprouts produce handsome flowers, it would not be advisable to remove them. However, the plant should be pruned, more or less, to keep it in good shape and a healthy condition.

A Bulb Enemy.—A brown worm an inch or more long, which rolls into a ball when touched, and becomes inactive, has destroyed over one hundred bulbs for me, and some perennials. It does not come out of the ground. How can I get rid of it?—Mrs. H. B., Chaut. Co., N. Y.

Ans.—Spade the ground over on the approach of winter, and apply a coating of fresh lime, stirring it well into the surface. As a rule, lime and frost are a sure remedy for larva of various kinds that winter in the soil.

FREE TO YOU, MY SISTER.

Free to You and Every Sister Woman Suffering from Woman's Ailments.

I am a woman.
I know woman's sufferings.
I have found the cure.
I will mail free of any charge, my home treatment with full instructions to any sufferer from woman's ailments. I want to tell all women about this cure—you my reader, for yourself, your daughter, your mother, or your sister. I want to tell you how to cure yourself at home without the help of a doctor. Men cannot understand women's sufferings. What we women know from experience, we know better than any doctor. I know that my home treatment is a safe and sure cure for Leucorrhoea or Discharges, Ulceration, Displacement or Falling of the Womb, Painful Periods, Uterine or Ovarian Tumors or Growths; also pain in the head, back and bowels, bearing down feelings, nervousness, creeping feeling up the spine, melancholy, hot flashes, weariness, kidney and bladder troubles where caused by weaknesses peculiar to our sex.

I want to send you a complete ten days' treatment entirely free to prove to you that you can cure yourself at home, easily, quickly and surely. Remember that it will cost you nothing to give this treatment a complete trial; and if you should wish to continue, it will cost you only about 12 cents a week or less than two cents a day. It will not interfere with your work or occupation. Just send me your name and address, tell me how you suffer if you wish, and I will send you the treatment for your case, entirely free, in plain wrapper, by return mail. I will also send you free of cost, my book—"WOMAN'S OWN MEDICAL ADVISER" with explanatory illustrations showing why women suffer, and how they can easily cure themselves at home. Every woman should have it, and learn to think for herself. Then when the doctor says—"You must have an operation," you can decide for yourself. Thousands of women have cured themselves with my home remedy. It cures all, old or young.

To Mothers of Daughters, I will explain a simple home treatment which speedily and effectually cures Leucorrhoea, Green Sickness, and painful or Irregular Menstruation in Young Ladies. Plumpness and health always result from its use.

Wherever you live, I can refer you to ladies of your own locality who know and will gladly tell any sufferer that this Home Treatment really cures all women's diseases, and makes women well, strong, plump and robust. Just send me your address, and the free ten days' treatment is yours, also the book. Write to-day as you may not see this offer again.

Address—MRS. M. SUMMERS, Box 407, South Bend, Ind., U.S.A.

MAGAZINE APPRECIATED.

Mr. Park:—I am a lover of flowers, and take great pleasure in reading your Magazine. I have taken it for about fourteen years. K. Bryne.

St. Paul, Kans., May 14, 1910.

Mr. Park:—I have received more pleasure from your little Magazine than any other paper of its size; more practical knowledge about flowers and their care and some kinds of vegetables, than from any other paper. Mrs. W. H. Pike.

Berkshire Co., Mass., June 1, 1910.

Mr. Park:—The little Rose plant came all right and looks bright and fresh. Yes, your little Floral Magazine is worthy of a place in every flower-lover's home. My friends and neighbors think I am quite an authority on plants. I tell them I learned it all from your little Magazine.

Hartford Co., Conn. A. B. Peckham.

Mr. Park:—I have been reading your little Floral Magazine for about five months, with increasing interest. I have obtained several new ideas and valuable hints from its pages. I appreciate the tone and spirit that give the people something of value for a little money, and I return to you my thanks. Mrs. E. F. Kirkland.

CHILDREN'S CORNER.

Dear Mr. Park:—We have a black cat named Nig. Papa and I were watching her, when she gave a spring on a young bird that was in the flower bed. We chased her around the house two or three times, then Mamma came out to help. We caught her and forced the bird out of her mouth, when it flew away into a pear tree.

Elizabeth Barnes.

Wellington, Ohio June 13, 1910.

Dear Mr. Park:—I am a farmer's daughter. We have lots of flowers in our yard and in pots. Mamma has taken your Magazine for a good while, and is going to renew, as she does not wish to do without it.

Esther Hurst.

Cairo, Pa., June 13, 1910.

Dear Mr. Park:—I am a country girl 14 years old, and live on a farm of 587 acres. We have some flowers. My favorites are Roses and Pansies. There are many birds here, and a Mocking bird builds her nest in our yard every year. We love to hear them sing. Postals exchanged.

Beatrice Black.

Brook, Ark., June 13, 1910.

Dear Mr. Park:—I am a reader of your Magazine, aged 11 years. We live on a farm and have a nice garden and a good many flowers. We have forty acres of corn, and three hundred chickens.

ITCH-ECZEMA FREE TRIAL

(Also called Tetter, Salt Rheum, Pruritus, Milk-Crust, Weeping Skin, etc.)

ECZEMA CAN BE CURED TO STAY, and when I say cured, I mean just what I say—C-U-R-E-D, and not merely patched up for awhile, to return worse than before. Now, I do not care what all you have used, nor how many doctors have told you that you could not be cured—all I ask is just a chance to show you that I know what I am talking about. If you will write me TO-DAY, I will send you a FREE TRIAL of my mild, soothing, guaranteed cure that will convince you more in a day than I or anyone else could in a month's time. If you are disgusted and discouraged, I dare you to give me a chance to prove my claims. By writing me to-day you will enjoy more real comfort than you had ever thought this world holds for you. Just try it, and you will see I am telling you the truth.

SUPERB MAMMOTH CROCUSES.

Price, 2 cents each, 15 cents for the collection of 10 bulbs; three collections 30 bulbs, 40 cents; six collections, 60 bulbs, 75 cents.

I offer a very superior class of Crocuses for cultivation in dishes, or for bedding. The bulbs are all of great size, and each one will throw up several splendid flowers, exquisite in form and color, and exceedingly showy and beautiful. In planting fill a glass dish half full with clear silver sand, cover the bulbs to half their thickness, allowing the upper part to protrude above the surface, and apply water till it stands in the dish as high as the base of the bulbs. Set away in a dark place till roots form, then bring to a cool room. The flowers will shortly appear, making a brilliant and showy display. Every bulb of these Mammoth Crocuses becomes bouquet in itself, or continues in bloom for some time, throwing up a number of flowers in succession, often several at a time.

Golden King, six inches high; bears from six to eight large, open, golden yellow flowers, the color deep and rich.

Charles Dickens, light blue, each bulb throwing up five or six fine flowers, opening in daytime, but closing at night.

Giant Purple, has a very large bulb, and develops six or eight splendid purple flowers; extra fine. King of the Blues, not as dark as the preceding, but producing from eight to ten immense flowers of superb form.

Queen Victoria, pure white, each bulb displaying from six to eight large and beautiful flowers; pretty, light green foliage.

For bedding purposes I will mail 100 of these splendid Crocuses for $1.00. Address GEO. W. PARK, La Park, Penn'a.

Young Frau, exquisite snow-white, each bulb developing a beautiful cluster of from eight to ten superb, large flowers.

Minerva, lovely white with faint blush shading, the flowers very large and opening well, but a few days later than others.

Blue Flag, each bulb bears from six to eight very large, handsome flowers, fine white with black-blue stripes; extra fine.

Gloriosa, lavender blue, shaded and striped with dark purple; large and very free-blooming.

Striped Queen, immense snow-white, with distinct blue mid-rib; each bulb bears a cluster of six or eight beautiful flowers.

THE ORCHID-FLOWERING IRIS.

I OFFER a splendid named collection of the beautiful Orchid-flowering Spanish Iris. They are hardy and gorgeous in groups or beds, blooming for several weeks in spring. The list embraces all the fine colors. Price, the ten fine bulbs, with MAGAZINE on trial, only 10 cents. Or, for bedding purposes, 100 (10 collections) 80 cents. I wish all my friends would try these Iris. Their beauty will prove a revelation to many flower-lovers.

Azure, Philomela, exquisite.

Blue, Darling, finest dark blue.

Yellow, Crysolora, large, bright

Pure White, Blanche Superb, fine

Soft White, Blanchard, pretty.

Blue Bronze, Stellata, blue and gold.

Orange, Prince of Orange, bronzy.

Porcelaine, Louise, white shade blue

Gold Bronze, Thunderbolt, showy.

Variegated, Formosa, lilac, olive.

Send Me Ten Trial Magazine subscriptions upon this offer, and I will send you a collection free, including three extra hardy bulbs, my selection. See your friends at once and make up a club.

Address

GEO. W. PARK, La Park, Penn'a.

BULBS FOR WINTER BLOOMING.

The following bulbs are indispensable for winter-blooming. Get them, pot them and place in a dark closet to root, then bring to the window as wanted. They will bloom shortly after being brought to the light.

Chinese Sacred Lilies, fine imported bulbs. Each 8 cts, per dozen 80 cts.

Paper White Narcissus, imported from France. Each 2 cts, per doz 20 cts.

Double Roman Narcissus, very fine imported. Each 2 cts, per doz 20 cts.

White Roman Hyacinths, bulbs sure to bloom. Each 4 cts, per doz 40 cts.

Italian Hyacinths, (Roman) blue, large bulbs. Each 4 cts, per doz 40 cts.

Italian Hyacinths, Pink, very fine bulbs. Each 4 cts, per doz 40 cts.

Lilium Harrisii, fine bulbs 15 cents; selected, 20 cents.

These winter-blooming bulbs can be mailed promptly, as they are received from growers earlier than other bulbs. Anybody can grow them. Cultural directions are sent with each collection of bulbs. Address GEO. W. PARK, La Park, Penn'a.

The Finest Polyanthus Narcissus.

The finest of all Narcissus for house culture are the Polyanthus varieties. The bulbs are sure to bloom well in winter even under unfavorable conditions, and every window gardener should grow them. I offer the three best, most distinct sorts, and the bulbs are large, sound and reliable. If you want to be sure of a fine display of beautiful and fragrant flowers the coming winter, do not fail to order a collection or more of these splendid bulbs. Price 5 cents each, or the three bulbs for 10 cents, three collections (nine bulbs) only 25 cents, mailed.

Grand Monarque, pure white with citron cup; large and beautiful, borne in splendid trusses.

Gloriosa, soft white with dark, bright orange cup; very fine trusses.

For winter-blooming treat these as you would Hyacinth bulbs. In the South they do well bedded out. They often do well even in Pennsylvania when bedded out.

Grand Soleil d' Or, beautiful golden yellow flowers in large trusses. This is the true Golden Sacred Lily. The flowers are entirely yellow and produced in big trusses; very fragrant.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Rose.—I have an Irish Rose covered with red spiders. How can I get rid of them?—Mrs. W. D., Maine.

Ans.—When Roses are badly infested, take off all the leaves, stripping them downward, so that no stems will be left for a harbor; burn the leaves taken off, and syringe the bare stems or branches with hot soap suds, to which has been added a little kerosene, say a teaspoonful to a gallon. It is well at the same time to cut back the tops. Water rather sparingly, after denuding the plants of their foliage, until growth begins, then water more freely. Syringe frequently with cold water, and keep in a moist temperature if possible. The plants will not then be further troubled with spiders.

Lily Buds Dropping.—The buds of my Melpomene and Auratum Lilies turn black and drop off. Please suggest a remedy.—M. R. P.

Ans.—Lilies exposed to the full sunshine are liable to drop their buds. The bed should be mulched early in summer with stable litter, which will keep the soil moist and cool, and promote the development of the buds. As a rule, it is better to have the Lily bed in a partially shaded place to avoid the effect of the hot sunshine.

Mr. Park:—When my Dorothy Perkins is budding, something seems to sting the buds till they blast and drop off. The ground is covered with them. How shall I treat it?—M. R. P.

Ans.—Syringe the plants with hellebore when the buds begin to form, using one ounce to three gallons of water. Repeat the application every week, or oftener, as the hellebore loses its poisonous properties when exposed to the air.

Mr. Park:—I enclose a little flower which I think very valuable because so fragrant and easily grown. It is an evening bloomer, which came to me years ago in a School Garden mixture. I have a great desire to know its name. It is fine either in rows or clumps and the air is so delightfully perfumed in the evenings.—Mrs. Julia E. Kersey, Newberg, Oregon.

The pressed flowers enclosed with description, indicate the name which is Matthiola bicornis, generally known as the Sweet-scented Evening Stock.

ANSWERS.

Non-blooming Geranium.—Mrs. W. A. Wright, Siskiyou Co., Cal., has a Geranium in a two-gallon pail. It is four feet tall, but does not bloom. She should plant it out in a rather sunny place during the summer, and apply water only when dry.

Gloxinias.—Gloxinia tubers should be potted with the crown protruding above the soil. Keep in partial shade, away from the wind, and keep the soil moist but not wet. The soil should be rather sandy and porous, and well drained, otherwise the tubers are liable to rot.

QUESTIONS.

One Thousand Beauties.—I have a climber of this name which was full of bloom last year, but this year is without a bloom. Why don't it bloom?—B. S., Neb., July 9, 1910.

Name Wanted.—I had a plant given me last fall which blooms at Christmas time. It has large green leaves, and if you touch one of them with your hand, it will commence to turn black and slowly die. What is it?—Mrs. R. N. S.

Pineapple.—How should I treat Pineapple to have it grow well through the winter and bear fruit?—N. K., Maine, June 6, 1910.

Moles.—I would like a remedy for moles. Their runs are so deep that spring-traps do not seem to catch them.—A. B. C., Conn.

About Gas.—I had beautiful plants before I began to use gas in my kitchen, but now the leaves turn yellow and drop off before they develop. No odor can be detected. How should I overcome the trouble?—Mrs. M. R. P., Mich.

Azalea Seedlings.—Will someone tell me how old an Azalea seedling must be to bloom, and what soil suits the plant best? Also, does it like lots of sun?—Mrs. N., Indiana.

State Flowers.—Will someone who has a knowledge of the State flowers, please give us a list of them?—L. B. H., Oregon.

Stock-Proof Vines.—Who can tell me what vine I can use, except Poison vine, to decorate a building in a stock yard?—Mrs. W., New York, April 18, 1910.

SECRETLY CURED OF DRINKING HABIT

The Wonderful Remedy Which Mrs. Mock Used on Her Husband.

To the Editor—

I want to tell all the readers of this paper that I discovered a genuine and perfect cure for constant liquor drinking. Mr. Mock had the habit which gradually grew worse. He couldn't leave the farm without getting his fill of liquor.

With the drink habit there came rheumatism and catarrhal troubles. Then, also, his stomach was generally in bad condition. I had tried every means of curing him and he wasted a lot of money on preparations that I got from several firms, but to no purpose. He did not want to be cured. But at last I heard about the good that was being done by the remedy of Mr. Edward J. Woods, whose address is 534 Sixth Avenue, 360 D, New York, N.Y., and wrote to him telling him about the case. He sent me, free of cost, a very interesting book and then I got his preparations which I began to give secretly to Mr. Mock. The effect was magical. He quickly began to express his disgust for drinking and lost all desire for whisky, gin or other drinks. It is marvelous how quickly and easily Mr. Mock was completely cured. He stays at home now at times when he used to be drinking in bar-rooms and he is an entirely changed man. He thought a miracle had been worked upon him until I told him the Woods secret remedies had cured him. He was very grateful and now he realizes what it means to be sober. He is always happy now and so am I, as it means so much to me.

I know there are many other women who are discouraged about their husband's or son's drinking habit, but they ought to cheer up right away and write Mr. Woods at the above mentioned address. He is a fine man, a confidential letter writer and a true friend. Please publish this.—Mrs. Sarah Mock.

CHILDREN'S CORNER.

Mr. Park:—I am a farmer's daughter and live on an eighty five acre farm. I will tell you of a ramble in the woods with my School teacher. We went out on a bluff and sat and rested. We could see about one hundred miles away. Then we went through the woods and found a rattle snake, which we killed and took the rattles. It was over three feet long. After this we picked some flowers and then went home.

Jennie Bedwood.

Dear Mr. Park:—I am a girl ten years old, and love flowers. We have Pansies and Roses. I have thirteen little baby rabbits and five old ones. I have a play house overhead in the barn. I have fifteen dolls and a teddy bear. I have a bicycle, but do not ride yet.

Ruth Shepherd.

Northville, N. Y. June 11, 1910.

Dear Mr. Park:—I am a girl ten years old, and like to read the Magazine. I have two white rabbits for pets. They have pretty red eyes, and will not bite. I got the prize in school for the most head marks in spelling. My brother got a prize too.

Eva Bast.

Armour, S. D.

Dear Mr. Park:—I am a little girl eight years old. My sister has taken your Magazine for a year. I like the Childrens Corner very much. We have Roses and Pansies and I have seven dolls. One of these has a silk dress and a big chain. For pets I have a squirrel and two little ducks. I lead the old goose to the water trough every day.

LEARN TO PLAY PIANO

OR ORGAN IN ONE HOUR

A musical genius from Chicago has just invented a wonderful system whereby anyone can learn to play the Piano or Organ in one hour. With this new method you don't have to know one note from another, yet in an hour of practice you can be playing the popular music with all the fingers of both hands—and playing it well. The invention is so simple that even a child can now master music without costly instruction. Anyone can have this new method to examine merely by asking. You can keep it seven days, then if it is all that is claimed for it you pay $1.50, and $1.00 a month till $6.50 in all is paid. Simply write and say: "Please send me Easy Form Music Method, as announced in Park's Floral Magazine."

The method and 100 pieces of music will be immediately shipped, all charges prepaid. Be sure to state how many white keys on your piano or organ. Address Easy Method Music Company, 988 Clarkson Building, Chicago, Illinois.

OSTRICHES IN CALIFORNIA.

Of course every new-comer to California visits the Ostrich farms of Los Angeles. We did. The Ostrich is lead into a box stall and tied, much as you would tie a horse, only with a very short rope. The left leg is then streached back as far as it can reach and is tied to a stake, and the plucking of the plooms begins. We saw all plucked but one or two, when an eastern man walked up, who was asked if he would like to have a ploom. He answers in the affirmative. All right, you may have one, pluck it. Nothing daunted, the man walked into the stall and up to the Ostrich a little cautiously, and raised his hand to pluck, when all of a sudden the string became loostened, and standing on the foot that had been tied, he raised the other one and landed Mr. Man about twenty feet away with neatness and dispatch, attended with many bumps. The man arose, looked mad, and limped away, quite humble in a rumpled coat, a dustier, but a wiser man. We then visited Golden Gate Park in San Francisco, and saw an ostrich, there inside of an inclosure, with a fence around so every one felt secure. A Frenchman with a goldheaded cane walked up. He had one eye glass fastened by a chain, and was dressed very much like a "dude," displaying a very large, elegant diamond on his cravat, also a gold headed cane. The Ostrich was eating grass very leisurely, when all of a sudden his long neck shot out, it seemed, ten or twelve feet; before the man was aware, the Ostrich had swallowed his diamond scarf pin. This man was mad beyond all reason. He declared he would kill the bird, and of course he was stopped. Now, if any of you anticipate visiting the State of California, "beware of the Ostrich" is my advice.

RHEUMATISM

A CURE GIVEN BY ONE WHO HAD IT

In the Spring of 1893 I was attacked by muscular and inflammatory rheumatism. I suffered as those who have it know, for over three years, and tried almost everything. Finally I found a remedy that cured me completely and it has not returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted, and it effected a cure in every case. Anyone desiring to give this precious remedy a trial, I will send it free. Address,

Mark H. Jackson, No 466 James Street, Syracuse, N. Y. Mr. Jackson is responsible. Above statement true.

FITS

RIGHT REMEDY IS FOUND AT LAST.
Let Us Prove It.

$2.50 WORTH FREE

If you are suffering from Epilepsy or Fits let us send you $2.50 worth of our wonderful new treatment free as a test. Thousands have used it with remarkable success, and if you have sought in vain for a cure of your affliction, you should give this treatment a trial. Write today for the free test treatment and let it speak for itself. Address Dr. Peebles Institute of Health, Battle Creek, Mich. 87 Madison Street.

RUPTURE CURED

I was helpless and bed-ridden for years from a double rupture. No trusts could hold. Doctors said I would die if not operated on. I fooled them all and cured myself by a simple discovery. I will send the cure free by mail if you write for it.

SisterWoman!

READ MY FREE OFFER

My Mission is to make sick women well, and I want to send you, your daughter, your sister, your mother, or any ailing friend, a full 50-cent box of Balm of Figs Compound absolutely free. It is a remedy for the treatment of woman's ailments, and I want to tell you all about it—just how to use it yourself—right at home without any inconvenience—and the best of it is that it will not in the least interfere with your work or pleasure. Balm of Figs Compound is a remedy that has made sick women well and weak women strong, and I can prove it—let me prove it to you, and I will gladly do it, for I have never heard of anything that has, according to the abundance of testimonials at hand, so quickly and surely cured woman's ailments. No internal dosing necessary—it is a local treatment, yet it has to its credit some of the most extraordinary cures on record. Therefore, I want to place it in the hands of every woman suffering with any form of Leucorrhea, Painful Periods, Ulceration, Inflammation, Uterine Displacements; Ovarian or Uterine Tumors or Growths, or any of the weaknesses so common to women.

This 50c box of Balm of Figs Compound will not cost you one cent

I will send it to you absolutely free, to prove to you its splendid qualities, and then if you wish to continue further, it will cost you only a few cents a week. I do not believe there is another remedy equal to Balm of Figs Compound, and I am willing to prove my faith by sending out these 50-cent boxes free. So, dear reader, irrespective of your past experience, write to me at once—today—and I will send you the treatment entirely free by return mail, and if you so desire, I can readily refer you to many, who can personally testify to the great and lasting cures that have resulted from the use of this remedy. But after all, the very best test of anything is a personal trial of it, and I know a 50-cent box of Balm of Figs Compound will convince you of its merits. Nothing is so convincing as the actual test of the article itself. Will you give Balm of Figs Compound this test? Write to me today, and remember I will gladly send you a 50-cent box of this remedy absolutely free. Address, MRS. HARRIET M. RICHARDS, Box A 16, JOLIET, ILLINOIS

QUESTION AND ANSWER.

Orange and Jessamine.—Mrs. Meade, of Virginia, sends leaves of Otaheite Orange and Maid of Orleans Jessamine. She should put the Orange and Lemon in very sandy soil, using a compost of well-rotted sods one part, and two parts of sand, well mixed, with gravel covered with Sphagnum moss at the base for drainage. The Jessamine should have a more tenacious soil, but good drainage. Give the plants plenty of sunshine, but do not let the hot sun shine against the sides of the pots. Avoid keeping the soil wet, as it will injure the roots and stunt the plants for many months. If in pots, cover the surface with Sphagnum moss, and place in a box or pots with Sphagnum moss between.

Seedling Phlox.—Mr. Park:—I have tried for years to have a fine border of Hardy Phlox, but not a seed will come up for me, although I usually have fine success with other seeds. Why is it?—Mrs. A. R. I., July 7, 1910.

Ans.—The seeds of Perennial Phlox germinate tardily. They should be sown as soon as ripe, if possible in Autumn. They will then come up the next spring. Seeds that are sown in spring should not be expected to germinate until the next spring. The bed should not be disturbed, at least for two years after the seeds are sown.

Sweet toned deep voiced instrument, with which you can play beautiful music for concerts and dances. Frame very large, 10 keys, full set reeds, 2 stops, double bellows, ebony and nickel plated end caps and trimmings. Send for 24 pieces of Jewelry to sell at 10c. each, return $2.40 when sold and we send the accordion.

SICK WOMEN CURED!

$3 Recipe Free

A God-Send to Many Sufferers

THREE seems to be at least one noble woman who has not only the ability but the willingness to help suffering women. Dr. Bertha C. Day of Fort Wayne, Ind., has proved beyond question her deep-seated sympathy for sick and discouraged women. She offers to send free of cost, charge or expense to any woman suffering from leucorrhœa, or nervousness, ulceration, displacement or falling of the womb, painful periods, uterine or ovarian troubles, change of life, or any other female trouble, a specially selected recipe for the cure of her particular ailments; a recipe used by her in the successful treatment of women who suffered as you now suffer.

We know this offer to be genuine. We believe that being a woman, wife and mother, as well as a successful specialist in women's diseases, Dr. Day is able to appreciate and sympathize with, as well as cure, the trouble of her sex better than any man could.

We know at first hand some of her remarkable cures. We have letters from all over the country testifying to her ability to cure ill women after other doctors and even operations failed. We took pains to prove these cures, knowing there were many schemes to take advantage of women's sufferings. One cured patient in Clinton, Mo., writes:

"May the blessings of God rest upon Dr. Day in her noble work of relieving sufferings of women, is the prayer of one who knows by experience."

From Webb, Miss., a grateful woman writes: "It was a Godsend to me." Another in Spencer, Va., says: "It has done me more good than all other medicines."

And so we say to you, write at once; tell what and how you suffer; address your letter to Dr. Bertha C. Day, 132 Day Bldg., Ft. Wayne, Indiana, and she will send you free in plain sealed envelope a proved recipe fitted for your cure in the privacy of your own home. Advt.

Dr. Bertha C. Day.
